is a “business trust” as defined under the Canada Income Tax Act. It was established to provide Ontario March of Dimes with a mechanism, should an opportunity arise, to benefit from revenue generating, social entrepreneurial programs and partnerships, and other commercial enterprises.

During the period 2008 - 2009 one such enterprise was undertaken. ModMobility® is a social enterprise of March of Dimes Canada operated under contract by Motion Specialties Incorporated. ModMobility collects, cleans, repairs and sells used mobility aids through Motion Specialties’ many retail locations and online at www.modmobility.ca.

Seed funding for a feasibility study and for the employment support for persons with disabilities has been provided by the United Way of Greater Toronto.

The objectives of ModMobility are “related activities” to the core objectives of the parent organization, March of Dimes Canada. Therefore, this corporation was not required to be involved.

At the time of this Annual Report, two other business opportunities are being investigated with the aim of launching in 2009 – 2010. The Board of Directors of the OMOD Independence Non-Profit Corporation will review all business plans on behalf of the parent corporation.
